Triple Drowning in Bloody Run Creek, Near Cincinnati.
The Heavy Bass Had Swallowed the Bass! Stagnant Stream. The Horrifying Discovery of a Batter. The Body Recovered After Dark Work.

PIQUA, Aug. 13.—Bloody Run creek north of Walnut Hills has quieted once again in its ghastly way upon human lives. The place has become a memorable one, owing to many tragic events which have transpired within the past few years.
Sunday afternoon George Baker of Mt. Lookout, and his cousin Howard Green, started for Bloody Run, with the intention of going in bathing. During the past month this creek has been a thin stream of water trickling through rubbish and over hills, but with the advent of the rain of the past three days it became quite deep and treacherous in its course.
When the two young men arrived upon a large specimen tree in the middle of the stream they noticed several others fallen. Several moments later Baker stepped upon a body and uttered a loud exclamation. He sprang forward, and, having secured the body, turned it over upon its back, and then, resewing his coat, called Green's attention to it. They then unbuttoned more closely and found that it was the body of a boy about twelve years old.
Near the tree was a hole filled with water which was about eight feet deep and in this the boy's body had become mixed. Not being able to remove it from the mud the two boys called for help and a lad named Fred Lehman responded to their cries. He was at once notified to get help. He hurried away, and the two young men soon resumed their effort to move the boy to the bank. But before help arrived they succeeded in dragging them across a fence rail which lay on the creek bed.

Three sets of clothing were found on him to be in the pile of the brush and a hunt was at once made for the other two bodies. In a few moments the two were found in the hole alongside the bank, where they were laid side by side.
Later in the afternoon the bodies were identified as Matthew Shaffer, age 11, and Wm. Shaffer, aged 12. The Shaffers' parents live at Spring Street and Piqua, parents of the deceased are George and Mary Shaffer. They were identified by the boy's father, who had been struck to the place by the fact that their boys were missing from home and the realization of their grave fate was a foreboding.
The only explanation that is thought plausible for the drowning of all three of the lads is that one of them beyond his depth or was seized with cramp. He called to the other boys for help and they responded and all of them went down together.

TARIFF'S FATE.

The House Surrenders to the Senate's Demands. A Vote of 102 to 94 Decides It.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—A meeting was held in Speaker Clegg's room Monday morning to decide what action the house leaders should take with reference to the tariff bill in the Senate.
Mr. Holman, chairman of the customs, took the chair immediately after the members were present) and the roll call which showed that 13 members were present) was completed a hush of expectation fell upon the chamber. Mr. Wilson, chairman of the ways and means committee, took the floor. Although not warmly spoken and cool, he was manifestly laborious under deep emotion. His speech for the first five minutes was general in character and contained no specific points. It was devoted to the beginning to point up the importance of the conference which had been adjourned to the 1st of September. He said that the representatives had gone into the conference with a desire of faithfully representing the wishes of their constituents.
They had failed to reach a satisfactory conclusion in conclusion favorable to the home and to democratic party was their fault.

Continuing Mr. Wilson made a speech referring to the second proposed resolution relating to sugar which had been advanced in the conference and proceeded to show at some length the profit which would accrue to the trust from the acceptance of these various propositions.

The report which reached the conferees from the chairman a few minutes before 11 o'clock was that Speck's proposal or one of the house leaders would offer a resolution to accept the Senate bill and that the understanding was if such resolution should be adopted it should be followed by the passage through the house during the present week of a series of separate bills placing sugar, coal and iron on the free list.

He then made the startling statement on the authority of a leading democratic senator, that the trust had boasted, near to the amount of $12,000,000 in the foreign market, in an attempt to keep the Chinese sugar schedule the trust would reap a profit of $1,000,000.

The latest revised figures show that the total immigration to the United States during the fiscal year amounted to 311,001, against 397,- causes are given for this falling and (3) increased vigilance of the American immigration authorities in enforcing the laws.

TARIFF BILL PASSED.

The Senate Bill Accepted by the House.

On last Monday evening the lower House of Congress passed the Senate Tariff Bill by a vote of 482 to 105. While the bill is not all that the Democratic party wants, it is a great improvement over the McKinley law, and was adopted because it was the best that could possibly be secured at present, owing to the immovable position of three nitrate Senators. After a desperate struggle to bring them into line the other Democratic Representatives saw that they had to take their choice between the Senate bill and no bill at all. Of course they chose the Senate bill.
Not being able to get that they wanted, they took the best that could be secured.

The rates of the Senate bill average a 30 per cent. reduction of the McKinley rates. The best informed newspaper man in Washington estimates that the new law is 30 per cent. better than the Mills bill and 100 per cent. better than the McKinley law.

The fight for thorough tariff reform will never be abandoned until fully accomplished. Three more have succeeded in defeating it temporarily, but the Democratic party can not be held responsible.

Hon. L. M. Quigley has been appointed to fill out Chief Justice Bennett's unexpired term.

It is said that Madeline Pollard will appear on the stage in October.
She will make her debut in Chicago.

The Democrats have an excellent ticket in this county—one which every member of the party can afford to work for.

The Republicans who are glibly referring to the opposition of the Democratic Congressmen to the new tariff law have evidently forgotten that the same state of affairs existed in the ranks of their own party when the McKinley bill was returned from the Senate torn to shreds. A good "forgetter" is sometimes better than a good member.

The rider on the last bicycle relay from Washington reached Denver Sunday night. The time consumed in carrying the message the distance—2,035 miles—was six days, ten hours and thirty-seven minutes, a gain of thirty-seven hours and twenty-three minutes over the schedule time, breaking eleven records.

The new tariff bill is not all the Democratic party wants nor all that it is going to have, although it is a great improvement over the McKinley law. It makes an average reduction of about thirty per cent, which is a big step in the right direction. Four traitorous Senators stand immovable in the way of further improvement, but they have thereby killed themselves politically. The party will now go to work with renewed vigor to dislodge those traitors with men who will act with the party to carry out the wishes of a large majority of the people of the United States.

With a calm satisfaction the Democratic party awaits the judgment of the people as to the responsibility of the pane of the past two years. It began before the Democratic party came into power. It is ending with the inauguration of Democratic tariff laws. The delay was obnoxious, to be sure, but no man here will blame the party or its leaders for this. The Republican Senators and the four who slipped into the Senate under Democratic eulogies hold the balance of power are responsible. The principles of tariff for revenue only are just as pure as ever and just as sure to triumph, because they contemplate justice and equal rights for all men.

If business doesn't improve under the new tariff law during the coming year the Republicans may be able to make some progress toward curing the people to believe that the hard times under the McKinley law were due to some vague cause for which the Democratic party is supposed to be responsible. But if the country should fail to go to the dogs; and if the pane of the past two years should be broken; and if business get better and prosperity come to the country, then, oh then, would the Republican leaders look with dismay upon the shower of boomer-angs in the shape of malitious predilection and of false accusations against the Democratic party, returning upon their own heads.

There is more earnest in this section of doctors pronounced it a local disease, constantly calling in cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable.

Science has proven it to be a constitutional

The Hazel Green Herald thinks W. J. Seitz of West Liberty, lost the Republican nomination for Congress in the tenth district because he had a habit of telling the truth during the canvass. While the best wheat raising counties in the State suffered very greatly from the snow, all the correspondents say that the berry is of a very superior quality. I heard a miller say, "that this year's crop of wheat was really worth five cents more per bushel than last year's crop, on account of the superior quality of the grain." Some of the best wheat raising counties
from the snow, and their yields will not be very large, but the average yield of the State will be nearly up to an average. The price continues very low; in fact, the market reports last week show that the price was lower than that of corn. Many farmers are using their crops as they did last year, feeding them to hogs; in fact, some farmers did not harvest their crop at all, but turned their hogs in the field. A gentleman in Mercer county said to me: That he was satisfied that he had saved the cost of harvesting his crop by turning in his hogs, and letting them eat it up. Very little plowing has been done for wheat as yet, and, from present prices, the farmer has poor encouragement to sow a large crop.
Our best wheat raisers think that all wheat ground, both soil and stubble, should be plowed as early as practicable, in order that it may settle and become firm before sowing.
I have obtained reports from a number of correspondents as to the yield per acre, some few not being able to give an estimate. From those reporting, I place the estimate at 16 bushels per acre.

One month ago I reported a prospect for the largest crop of corn ever raised in the State, and I might say, from all reports from other States, the largest in the United States, but a month can make a very great difference in a corn crop.
The rains have not been general by any means, and in many places where it has rained, there has not been enough to do any good.
Reports from great many counties say "no rain of any consequence since the snow." I read very carefully the reports, and find it a very difficult matter to tell which part of the State has suffered most from want of rain. I rather believe that the Western and Southern portions have reported more rain than the Middle and Eastern parts, but the drought seems to be very widespread, not confined to our State alone, but to most of the corn-growing States.
The average condition of the crop is placed at 82 per cent.

All correspondents agree that the early planting of tobacco is doing fairly well, making good growth and prospects of a fair crop, but that the late setting is doing little in existence for the flux. His experience is well worth remembering. He says, "Last summer I had a very severe attack of flux. I tried almost every known remedy, none giving relief.
Chambers' Cure, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy was recommended to me, I purchased a bottle and recovered almost immediate relief. I continued to use the medicine and was entirely cured. I take pleasure in recommending this remedy to any person suffering with such a disease, as in my opinion it is the best medicine in existence." 25 and 50 cent

Don't Dam Salt River.

Louisville Times: The proposal of that Taylorsville utilitarian company to build a dam across Salt river can not be entertained for a moment, unless a lock goes with the dam. The Legislature, history, and a large human experience all declare Salt river navigable stream, and that the dam will not be a good lock.

From the reports of correspondents all kinds of pastures are unusually short for this time of year.
It is not an uncommon thing to commence feeding out stock in September, but not often the case in August. Stock waterers report very scarce in some counties.
The condition as reported is 67 per cent.

The timothy hay crop is very short, but was put in the stack in fine condition. The per cent., as reported, is placed at 68.

The average yield of oats per acre is 25-15 bushels.

Reports good as to stock of all kinds from all parts of the State, and declare Salt river navigable
not be a good lock.

Remarks as to fruit—generally a failure—some few late apples in some sections. About seventy-five per cent. of a crop of grapes.

In many places gardens are seriously injured. Early potatoes will make fair crop.

River and Harbor Bill.
The President has as yet taken no action upon the river and har-opinion as to when the ten days

Business Reviving.

Immediately upon the passage of the tariff bill the business of the country took a jump forward. Telegraph wires were kept busy with orders and the dispatches characterize the extent of the activity as wonderful. The business men are in high spirits over the realization of their hopes.

Some reductions in wages may be looked for in the manufactures.
The overfed monopolies will use the tariff reductions as an excuse for making a cut. The long existence of laws for their special benefit has made them so sluggish that they will not consent to a division of their enormous profits with their workmen as long as they can resist it.

But the day when the manufacturer must be satisfied with reasonable profits, and when he must be willing to pay his laborers good wages is not far distant.

Baso Ball.

The Louisa ball club returned Saturday, having won two games and lost two on their trip. They broke even with Ashland. Manager Bryant, of Ashland, took his club to Catlettsburg on Friday and the Louisa team beat them by a score of 9 to 5. With Welch in the box, Konus and Rhodes did the battery work for Ashland. The Louisa boys put up a fine game.

On Saturday our boys went to Ashland and won pitcher Billups and Wayne Bradley. Smith of Trouton, pitched and Blackwell played first.
Welch did not play. The result was the same as in the first Huntington game. The first base man made a number of errors, which are responsible for at least half of Ashland's scores. Blackwell can play a fine game when he wants to.

The game resulted in a score of 11 to 4 in Ashland's favor.

The experience the boys had on their trip with foreign first basemen will probably teach them a good lesson. It ought to do so.

Nothing definite as to the turn-or movements of the club is known.

The Ashland Daily News thinks the Louisa base ball club will not insist upon having the other return game. It is a matter of honor with the Ashland club to return it.

The Ashland management is guilty of some very small tricks.

All hot games are charged to the "second nine" and all victories to the "Ashland Club." The latter is an uncertain quantity and is applied to any aggregation that happens to win—no matter who the players are, or from how many towns they are gathered.
